

THE ENLISTMENT COMMENCES TODAY

Men Wanted for Ten New Regiments.

CITY OF MANILA THREATENED WITH AN INUNDATION.

Storm Rages Over Luzon, and Lower Parts Are Submerged—Soldiers in the Trenches at the Front Suffer Greatly From Exposure—Prominent Rebel Generals Are Anxious to Surrender to American Authorities—Failure of Insurrection.

Washington, July 10.—[Special]—Gen. Otis cables the war department that he has secured one thousand men in the Philippines for two skeleton regiments and that sixteen hundred will have to be sent from here.

The enlistment of the men for ten new regiments began throughout the country today.

Recruiting parties will be sent out to secure enlistments in towns where there are no regular stations.

Manila, July 10.—Storms of exceptional violence have swept Manila and all the central part of the island of Luzon for several days. They have been accompanied by a very heavy rainfall, which in twelve hours amounted to 7.39 inches. Warnings have been sent to the inhabitants of parts of Manila and the territory back of it to prepare for a serious inundation.

As this dispatch is sent the Pasig river is within six inches of overflowing its banks in Manila, and is rising steadily. Various small streams have burst out of their channels and have submerged the lower parts of the city.

Soldiers Made to Suffer.

Because of the storm's violence no ships have been able to leave this harbor since the 5th inst. The soldiers in the trenches at the front are suffering from exposure.

Negotiations Are Ineffectual.

Some ineffectual negotiations have been under way at Plas, about ten miles from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters at San Fernando, with representatives of the insurgents, who claimed to desire that terms of surrender be given them. Nothing was arrived at and the good faith of the negotiators is doubted.

Troops Surrounded by Water.

It has been raining and storming almost incessantly for two days, and the country along the American south and bay lines is literally flooded. The soldiers are suffering great discomfort. The Thirteenth Infantry at Passay is in the worst position, being practically surrounded by water. The bridges that were used for getting supplies have been washed away, and some of the companies are now separated by streams six feet deep. In many cases the men are sleeping with three feet of water beneath their bunks, which are elevated on cracker boxes. The company cooks, when preparing the meals, stand knee deep in water.

Manila Bay is impossible of navigation by either launches or canoes, and no vessels are leaving the harbor. The United States transport Centennial is ready to sail for San Francisco with discharged soldiers, but the latter have to sit around the water front all day, drenched to the skin, waiting for a launch to take them to the steamer.

Rebel General Fears to Surrender.

Friendly Filipinos in Manila have been the medium of communications between the American authorities and the military leaders of the insurrection in Cavite province, which for some time promised to result in bringing over a prominent general and several hundred of his followers with their arms. If the negotiations had succeeded the outcome would have had a great moral effect, for other defections doubtless would have followed. Were the general's name given it might lead, in his case, to a fate similar to that which has befallen other Filipinos suspected of friendliness toward the Americans. He had foreseen the failure of the insurrection and advised Aguinaldo to make terms, but it is understood that, having sworn to support the insurrection, he must remain loyal to the end.

Similar negotiations are said on good authority to have been conducted with a member of the cabinet of the so-called Filipino government, who himself took the initiative. Some form of money consideration figured in the discussions with his friends.

Spanish Capital Leaves Cuba.

City of Mexico, July 10.—Spaniards formerly in business in Havana and other Cuban cities are now arriving here looking for investments, and say that by October fully $130,000,000 of Spanish capital will have been withdrawn from the island, as Spaniards of wealth do not want to risk a long period of political unrest and possible coming into power of professional Cuban politicians.

Tragedy Due to Intoxication.

Allentown, Pa., July 10.—Charles Knauss, aged 18 years, shot and seriously wounded Mrs. Edwin Dieffen-derfer, aged 26 years, and then shot and killed himself. Mrs. Dieffen-derfer was trying to break up Knauss' infatuation for her and refused to elope with him, which made him desperate. Mrs. Dieffen-derfer has a husband and two children.

RECEIVED LETTER OF THANKS

From Secretary of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission

The traveling library recently sent out by the Woman's History club, of this city, has brought forth praise from P. A. Hutchins, secretary of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission, and the following extract is taken from the letter received by Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers:

"We are all very grateful for the traveling library which has recently been received from the Woman's History club. The library is an admirable one for its purpose, and will be a constant source of delight to the people in the communities to which it will go. We have received quite a number of such libraries from individuals and clubs, which have been made as the result of individual contributions of books, but no other library of its kind has been on the whole so well adapted to its purpose as the library which you have so kindly sent us. It will be a constant pleasure to find suitable places for it. We shall hold it for a few days to put in some book plates and book pockets, but shall have it at work before the first of July. I enclose one of our book plates. The cut is made upon a block with a short space left to insert the name of the donor of the library."

OFFICIAL OSTRACISM OF SECRETARY ALGER

BEGUN AS A MEANS OF FORCING HIM OUT OF CABINET.

This inference is taken from the fact that Alger was not present Saturday at the conference between the president and Gov. Roosevelt.

RICHMOND MAIL ROUTE CHANGES

Richmond Blues Defeated the White-water Nine the Fourth—17 to 19

Richmond, July 10.—Byron Dunbar, who has run the mail route from Richmond to Janesville for the past four years, has retired. George Goodyear has taken charge; consideration, $400 per year. The Richmond Blues are becoming quite famous in the base ball world. The score was 17 to 19 at Whitewater the Fourth, in favor of Richmond. Mr. and Mrs. Callins are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Denhart celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their wedded life Fourth of July evening. About one hundred and fifty guests took part in the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Denhart received very many and very handsome presents, also about $20 in money. Dancing was the feature of the evening, which lasted until daylight. Supper was served at 12 o'clock, which consisted of everything imaginable good to eat. During the recent wet weather it was almost impossible to travel over the roads where the grader had been used. Prosperity stares the farmer in the face this year and many mortgages will be raised this fall. Frank Wilear, of Sugar Creek, is working a few days for his father-in-law, Mr. Claxton, superintendent of the haying. Mr. and Mrs. William Osborne, spent the Fourth at Harvard, Ill., with their son, Albert. In spite of the rain Whitewater had a good celebration and everybody reports a good time. It certainly is astonishing to notice how fast the corn grows since the recent rains, which will greatly improve the crops, although considerable damage was done to some pieces of heavy oats and barley. But two days was required to put the roads in pretty good shape after the heavy rains. Mrs. Ohas Stoller, of Janesville, visited at E. Stoller's a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Harris are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl. G. F. Parrish has in possession a four-legged duck, which, at present promises to live and is doing well. A very peculiar freak of nature, and something worth seeing. Haying has started in full swing. The crop being light, it will not last long. Rev. and Mrs. Dawson have returned from their visit in Illinois. Fred Beisenburg had a shingling bee last Wednesday. Emory Holbrook has a new Deering binder and mower. Del Newbury has hired out to John McNulty. Several from here will attend the Delavan Lake assembly. We understand the locust will visit this country, instead of the potato bug.

$26,000 LOSS BY FIRE AT RACINE

CAUSED BY EXPLOSION IN FISH BROS' WAGON WORKS.

A. J. Welch Said to Have Killed Wallace W. Tousey Near Shawano, on the Fourth of July—Adolph Elkey in Brown County Jail, Worries the Turnkey—State News.

Racine, Wis., July 10.—Residents of the west side were startled at 12:25 o'clock yesterday by a terrific explosion, and hurrying from their homes saw clouds of smoke issuing from the three-story office building and store rooms of the Fish Bros. Wagon company, and soon flames were visible. The fire department, after a stubborn fight, controlled the blaze. The building was damaged between $7,000 and $8,000 and the stock between $15,000 and $18,000, mostly gearing for farm wagons.

The loss is covered by a blanket insurance policy of $200,000, over fifty insurance companies having an interest in it.

The fire originated from spontaneous combustion in a box of rags and the explosion was occasioned by hot air and gases. The explosion raised the center of the roof of the structure on both sides about three-quarters of a foot. The damaged building was completed last year.

Murder Near Shawano

Gresham, Wis., July 10.—The Fourth of July celebration here ended in the killing of Wallace W. Tousey by A. J. Welch. Both are of colored blood, residents of the Stockbridge reserve, and men with families. A feud has existed between them for years; but, on this occasion it appears that Tousey was the aggressor. Welch is a small but wiry man. A big Stockbridge man by the name of John Bowman, pounded Welch earlier in the day, after which the latter procured a revolver. Tousey had also thrashed another Stockbridge man by the name of Aaron, and when he encountered Welch he felled him on the sidewalk. Welch backed away, at the same time warning Tousey that he was armed and would shoot him if he did not keep off. Tousey followed Welch up and finally made a rush to close with him, when Welch fired three shots. Two went over Tousey's head and the third entered his left breast piercing both lungs, from the effects of which he died in a short time.

In the excitement following the shooting, Welch escaped from the angry friends of Tousey, fled across the fields, crossed the river and made his way to within half a mile of his home.

Not Prinslow's Slayer

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 10.—James K. Howard, arrested, at Dodgeville some time ago and thought to be "Chi. Sully", one of the murderers of Police- man William Prinslow, is a free man. Although filling the description of the much wanted William Sullivan almost to the letter, in face, figure, marks, etc., he is not the man. Letters from eight or ten prominent persons in Stroator, Ill., which city Howard claimed as his home from early in October, 1898, to May 15, 1899, showed conclusively that he was in that city at the time of the Prinslow murder, Nov. 18, 1899. The letters were from one of the leading pastors of Stroator, the Agent of the Chicago & Alton road, and from a number of business men who knew him.

Shackles Do Not Hold Him.

DePere, Wis., July 10.—Adolph Elkey, held in the county jail to await trial in September on a charge of carrying liquor on the Ousida reservation, sawed off the shackles that have bound his feet since his recent attempt to escape, and had sawed off a bolt on one of the window bars when the facts were discovered. Elkey's instrument was a crude saw made by picking a piece of steel shingle band with a table knife. When jail officials curiously asked Elkey how he had accomplished so remarkable a piece of work with so crude a weapon, he laughed aloud and replied: "That's easy. I was just doing that for pastime. I could do better if I tried." Elkey would have gotten away that night if his plan had not been frustrated.

Looking for H. C. Owen.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 10.—Sheriff White has in his possession a warrant for the arrest of Herbert C. Owen, who has been for some time cashier for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company at Neenah. He is charged with the embezzlement of $852.17 of the company's funds in the early part of last January. The warrant was sworn out by J. W. Quinn, and Sheriff White has had the warrant since Thursday, and has been unable to locate his man. Owen was arrested at Neenah on the same charge, and released by a justice of the peace, on the statement that the evidence was insufficient.

It is not believed that Mr. Clements can secure this bond, as public sentiment is strongly against him.

He will be given a reception by the Woman's Relief corps Tuesday. Ensign Leahy is on his way to San Francisco to join the Philadelphia which is expected to go to Manila the latter part of the month.

Will Benefit the State.

Madison, Wis., July 10.—The re-organization of the Wisconsin Central road will bring in a fee, within a few days, of something over $15,000 for filing articles of re-organization. Under the old law the fee for this would have been $10. The re-organization of the Wisconsin Telephone company means $1,000 to the state instead of $10.

A NEW CURRENCY BILL

Formulated by Members of Senate Finance Committee—To Be Introduced Next Session.

New York, July 10.—[Special]—A new currency bill has been formulated by the members of the senate finance committee who have been in conference at Narragansett Pier. A bill will be drawn up for introduction at the next session of congress.

New York, July 10.—Senator Platt has established his summer political headquarters at Manhattan Beach. He returned late Saturday night from Narragansett pier, where he has been for the last ten days in conference with Chairman Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island and Senators Julius Caesar Burrows of Michigan and Orrville H. Platt of Connecticut over the McKinley-Hanna plans for changing the currency, administrative customs and internal revenue systems.

When asked what had been the result of the deliberations he said: "We can report progress, especially with reference to the currency bill. The committee has concluded not to make the bill public just yet. But it will provide a sound-money plan that will insure safety, you may be assured of that."

Indians Will Push Claims.

Niles, Mich., July 10.—The remnant of the tribe of Pottawatomie Indians who are scattered over southern Michigan are preparing to push their claim to the title of Iowa lands, the value of which they assert should be paid them without legal recourse. A delegation of the survivors of the once powerful nation will again visit Washington to interest, if possible, the federal authorities in their cause, believing they are entitled to indemnity for their former possessions alleged to have been wrongfully wrested from them. The Pottawatomies claim ownership to 2,000,000 acres of land in Iowa.

In the afternoon a clam bake will be held at Crystal Springs park. The society girls of Janesville have volunteered to act as waitresses, and a pleasant time is assured. In the evening dancing will close the meet."

Good Seating Accommodations.
"The track upon which the races will be conducted has been for years considered one of the best horse race courses in the west, and it has a reputation throughout the country for speed. It is seventy five feet wide and was built about eight years ago. The promoters of the meet have erected an amphitheater which cost about $5,000, and will easily seat 2,000 people. Forty boxes have also been erected, three of them will be occupied by the honored guests, while two more will be allotted for L. A. W. officials and two for the press. Fourteen have already been sold to residents of Janesville, Delavan and Whitewater. For the past three weeks a force of men have been employed getting the track in condition. On the back and on the home stretch it will be banked three and one-half feet, and at the turns about five feet. This is done for the purpose of having national circuit riders attempt to break records, which is being contemplated. Training quarters on the inside of the track have also been erected. They constitute four buildings, fifty feet wide and 100 feet long. The stand for the officials will be completed tomorrow."

History of the Club.
"The Janesville Cycling club was organized about two years ago by several well known wheelmen of that city. It is the outgrowth of the club called 'the Wheelmen of Janesville,' which at one time owned property and a club house. The lack of interest, however, caused the club to be forced to the wall, and for two years there was no cycling organization in Janesville. The present club is in good financial condition, and those connected with it are well known. M. G. Jeffris, one of the prominent lawyers there, is its president. Although not very active in cycling in former years, he has now taken a deep interest in that sport, especially since the new club was organized, and more so on account of the state meet. It was mainly due to his efforts that Mayor Harrison of Chicago, has promised to open the meet with an address. E. D. McGowan, vice president of the club, is an ardent cyclist, and has worked hard to aid in arranging the meet. Stanley D. Tallman is secretary of the club. He is well known in cycling circles throughout the state, and his work in securing the meet at the annual business meeting last January, will not be forgotten. The treasurer is W. W. Watt. He is reporter on The Janesville Gazette, and has been identified with cycling for several years. Edward Whitton is captain. The club has its headquarters on Milwaukee street, in the heart of the city. Its quarters include all the requirements a club may desire."

NO PLAT OF LINE CITY IN YEAR 1836

AN OLD DRAWING RECENTLY FOUND BEARS NO DATE.

Communication From the Venerable
S. T. Merrill States That the Document
Could Not Have Been Published in 1836, as Reported—Historic Relic of Value.

S. T. Merrill of Beloit, writes the following interesting letter to the Daily Free Press of that city:

"A map of the town of Beloit containing 370 acres, lithographed by Miller & Co., No. 15 Broad street, New York, recently found among the papers of Hazen Cheney, an old resident of Beloit, is an interesting and important contribution to the early history of our city. It bears no date. It could not have been published in 1836 as stated in the Beloit News, for the reason that there was no such place as Beloit at that date."

"Mr. William Holmes and Mr. John Imman visited the present site of Beloit July 17, 1835. They found no person here, white or Indian, to greet them; no log cabin, no signs of habitation; solitude reigned everywhere about the mouth of the Turtle. The advent of 'Old Thibault' with his two Indian wives must have occurred soon after, for Judge William Holmes and family on their way, via Chicago and Beloit, to make a new home in Janesville, stopped March 9th, 1836, to shake off the snow and warm at Thibault's log cabin. Caleb Blodgett was not here then, but soon after, but not early enough to publish a map in 1836."

"This map belongs to Mrs. Carr, 734 Harrison avenue, a sister of Hazen Cheney, among whose papers it was found. It was kindly sent to me by Walter Carr of Chicago, for inspection. From frequent foldings and age it was sadly dilapidated. I put the pieces together as well as I could, and with the consent of Mr. Carr, had it photographed. About one-half of the lots on the photograph are more or less black, caused by the different colors used on the original to designate the ownership of the five persons whose names appear on one corner of the map, each with a bit of color corresponding to that on the lots owned. For instance the lots owned by Hazen Cheney are the darkest on the photograph, because a very dark blue was his color on the original. The lightest on the photograph are colored yellow on the original, and belonged to Cyrus Eams."

The most curious feature of this map is that showing the scheme for a great manufacturing town—a grand canal 100 feet wide is projected on Canal street (now Prairie avenue) to bring the water of the tortuous Turtle from a point far enough up stream to secure a fall of 30 feet at Mechanics Green on the east of which plots are marked out and numbered for more than 20 mill sites. A secondary canal was projected to take the water from below the 30 feet fall through 'Moor and Goodline's Mill Land.' This last canal was dug and the water brought through it utilized for many years, first for a saw mill erected in the spring of 1837 and then for the old red grist mill, located near where Mr. Keeler's office now stands."

How to Reach Two Famous Resorts

An Outing Hint From "Outing."

Fast, safe, superbly equipped and most carefully governed, one need not wonder at the great popularity of the New York Central. No other line affords such facilities for through travel between the East and the West as this wonderful four-track system. In the possession of Grand Central Station, located in the heart of New York City, and within trifling distances of all first-class hotels, this railway offers greater advantages than competing lines. Spring, summer, autumn and winter, it has attractions irresistible. The great Northern Wilderness, the playground of the state, now beckons its thousands. As autumn falls, America's scenic masterpiece, far famed Niagara, will claim its annual host of pilgrims with its majestic power, the fierce turmoil of the Whirlpool and all the picturesque surroundings, the awesome Cave of the Winds and the several other minor attractions of the vicinity. And when winter comes then the entire scene transformed to what seems a fairytale of marvelous frost dressings, of icy forts and snowy palaces; of gleaming, crystal prison barriers vainly striving to bind the roaring, foaming plunge of water—will present a spectacle of weird, mysterious beauty which is not duplicated in the world.—Outing.

build the house around the bath room.

SO SOME PEOPLE say. The modern idea in building is to have the bath room and plumbing convenient and nice, if you are obliged to cut off on something else.

That Double System of Plumbing.....

we are putting in many houses, is a convenience well worth looking into. It can be placed in any house. With it you have soft water for the bath and lavatory purposes and, with the turning of a valve you can run city water through the pipes. A motor elevates the soft water automatically. We would be pleased to explain it more fully to you.

Fairbanks Back from Alaska.

Seattle, Wash., July 10.—The revenue cutter McCulloch reached port Sunday with Senator Charles Fairbanks of Indiana and his party on board. Interviews with members of the party indicate that the watershed on White pass, back of Skagway and Talia, will be accepted as the international boundary line at that point. The White and Chilcoot passes constitute the storm center of the Alaska boundary. At those points the Canadians hope to obtain concessions that will enable them to secure a port of entry into the Klondike gold fields. Senator Fairbanks, when interviewed, placed importance on the fact that he must sit with the joint high commission in August, but declined to state what lines of argument he would take up.

Tells Alms of Miners' Union.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 10.—National Committeeman Fred Dilcher of the United Mine Workers of America, in an open letter to the Express, denies the statement made by the southern Indiana coal operators that the operators are expected by the miners to pay a 2 per cent levy on their earnings for the support of the miners' union. After outlining the object and workings of the union, Mr. Dilcher says that instead of seeking to antagonize the operators the miners' union is striving for a better condition of affairs. The union wants to give the operator what is rightfully his, but it will fight to the last ditch for what it considers the rights of the men. The southern Indiana mining situation is unchanged.

Martial Law at London, Ont.

London, Ont., July 10.—The street-car strike, which has been in progress here several weeks, led to a serious rioting Saturday and the city is now under martial law. Shortly after midnight the militia was called out, and the rioters melted away. The troops with fixed bayonets escorted the cars to the barn without molestation. Marshal law was proclaimed, and 2000 militia men have been ordered to the city from adjacent towns. All is quiet to-day. Three arrests have been made, but scores of alleged rioters have been apprehended.

Walsh to Appeal to the Law.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—Michael J. Walsh, who was deposed as supreme president of the Order of Catholic Knights of Illinois at St. St. Louis, threatens to bring an action in court against the trustees. The cause for the removal was stated to be his opposition in St. Patrick's parish to the appointment of Father Cluse by the bishop of the diocese. It is claimed that he had been instrumental in preventing people from attending mass, and had in other ways acted in a manner "unbecoming a Catholic."

Iron Molders Meet.

Indianapolis, July 10.—The Iron Molders' Union of North America began its twenty-first convention here to-day. The convention will be in session two weeks and will adopt a new constitution, embracing changes in the times and conditions. The last convention was held in Chicago in July, 1895.

For a Fourth of July Murder.

Gresham, Wis., July 10.—Sheriff McDonnell Sunday arrested A. J. Welch on a charge of murdering Wallace W. Tousey on July 4. The shooting was the result of a feud that had existed for years. The arrest of Welch prevented what would doubtless have been a lynching.

PLAN TO HELP FLOOD REFUGEES

State of Texas to Be Divided Into Relief Districts—Big Task Ahead.

Austin, Texas, July 10.—Gov. Sayers spent Sunday at his office receiving reports from the numerous committees which have charge of the work of rescuing and distributing food supplies to the flood refugees. The governor also received many contributions from Texas towns and individuals of eastern and northern cities in behalf of the destitute people.

The situation was much more serious than was indicated a day or two ago. It is going to be a big task to take care of the homeless and needy until they can be provided with shelter and work. A plan of action by which it is hoped an abundance of the necessary supplies can be obtained was perfected by the governor. It consists of the formation of districts, each composed of counties not affected by the flood, but contiguous to the inundated region. The county judges in these districts are asked to call on the people of the respective counties for aid and to forward all contributions in the way of food and clothing to certain distributing points.

The sea of water in Fort Bend, Miller, Brazoria and Austin counties has not receded to any appreciable extent. A telegram was received here from Sandy Point, Brazoria county, saying the water continued rising there. Thousands of additional acres of cotton and sugar cane and corn are inundated and the property loss was greatly increased, according to trustworthy information from every county in the flooded district, during the last two days. The first estimates of the aggregate loss to the cotton yield will be exceeded several times over.

RAID ON POLYGAMY IS BEGUN.

A. M. Cannon, a Prominent Mormon, Arrested—Wife No. 4 a Senator.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 10.—The arrest of Angus M. Cannon, president of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion, one of the most prominent officials of the Mormon church, on a charge of unlawful cohabitation with his fourth plural wife, State Senator Mattie Hughes Cannon, has stirred this city and state as it has not been stirred since the prosecutions under the Edmunds-Tucker act.

It is said here that the arrest of President Cannon is the first step in a raid that is to be instituted against polygamists, and some stirring times are expected. A case is understood to be in preparation against Congressman B. H. Roberts, who freely admits that he has three wives. He will not be arrested, however, until just before congress meets in December next, in order that it may be pending when the question of expelling him comes up.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12. Though only 15 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. I have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

Our baby has been continually troubled with colic and cholera infantum since his birth, and all that we could do for him did not seem to give more than temporary relief, until we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Since giving that remedy he has not been troubled. We want to give you this testimonial as an evidence of our gratitude, not that you need it to advertise your marvellous remedy.—G. M. Law, Keokuk, Iowa. For sale by People's Drug Co.

Persons troubled with diarrhoea will be interested in the experience of Mr. W. M. Bash, clerk of Hotel Dorrance Providence, R. I. He says: "For several years I have been a constant sufferer from diarrhoea, the frequent attacks completely prostrating me and rendering me unfit for my duties at this hotel. About two years ago a traveling salesman kindly gave me a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Much to my surprise and delight its effects were immediate. Whenever I felt symptoms of the disease I would fortify myself against the attack with a few doses of this valuable remedy. The result has been very satisfactory and almost complete relief from the affliction." For sale by People's Drug Co., corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

DRINK GRAIN-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee, it is not a medicine, but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grain, and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about 1/4 as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain-O, the new food drink. 35 and 25c.

ALONE IN THEIR GLORY

The American "anti-imperialists" are alone in their glory. Not one man who dwells under a foreign flag has yet raised his voice in criticism of the American government. Not one foreign newspaper has yet charged that the American flag is "the emblem of butchery and tyranny." Not one foreign government has protested against the action of the United States army or navy. Atkinson, Hoar & Co., are the only ones who criticize. And they dwell 'neath the banner they attack!

The American policy has challenged the admiration of the world—as our English cousins have so plainly shown. The foreign governments that hate us, even, do not raise their voices in denunciation.

Why? Not because they love us, but because they know that the United States government is backed by the right.

This being true, what excuse can the "anti-imperialists" advance?

None whatever.

Let the "emblem of butchery and tyranny" shouters retire into the obscurity of the outer darkness, where they belong.

When critical and jealous foreign powers and authorities question the humanity of our policy, is time enough to speak in condemnation, for these governments, rest assured, will make their views known at the first opportunity.

An armed enemy confronts the American soldiers, and until this enemy lays down its rifles and recognizes law and order, every good citizen realizes that there should be no treasonable utterances nor actions.

Yes, the unwise critics of the government are "alone in their glory"—and so was Benedict Arnold!

There is only one fact at issue in the question of whether or not the council shall keep the Wisconsin Telephone company's phones in the city buildings: "Is the contract entered into by the city wherein it is agreed to use the Rock County Telephone company's phones exclusively, binding?" If the contract is binding all talk of using any other phone is a waste of breath; if it is not binding, then the city can do as it pleases.

The court martial that tried Admiral Cervera returned a verdict of acquittal, and that brave and gentlemanly sailor was at once set at liberty. Cervera should not have been court-martialed. His countrymen should have received him with open arms, for no more daring feat than the rush to break through Admiral Sampson's fleet was ever attempted.

The state officers and employees nine has challenged the Milwaukee City Officials nine to a game of base ball for the benefit of the New Richmond sufferers. If the umpires have not yet been selected we wish to suggest the names of Robert M. La Follette, of Madison, and Henry Smith, of Milwaukee.

Will the people who champion Admiral Schley because "he has been persecuted by the navy department" be equally indignant because Admiral Sampson has been deprived of his pay as an admiral? They will if they are consistent, but we do not expect to hear them all speak at once.

Milwaukee Sentinel—All attempts to awaken interest in Wisconsin politics this summer have proven futile. Republicans are too busy and democrats are too far apart.

Pastor Jeffries says he brought up his fighting son "in the way he should go," by the liberal use of the strap. But he won't try it again.

And it will be noted that the circus parade cost the Fourth of July committee the magnificent sum of $8.84, cash.

The citizens of Beloit evidently know a good Fourth of July celebration when they see it.

Alger has not combined with Piugree, but Piugree has attached himself to Alger.

Col. Bryan's friends say that he is certain of a renomination, and place

Wisconsin in the list of states that are sure for him. As there are only one or two silver champions left among all the newspapers of the Badger state, we do not see how the Bryanites arrive at this conclusion, but perhaps they know what they are talking about.

The Life Time of a Nation.

It is evident to every reader of history that nations have what may be called a life period, at the end of which they decay. Half a century ago a French writer undertook to determine the average duration of national life, and he arrived at the conclusion that it was between 800 and 1,000 years. Recently Dr. D. G. Brinton has taken up this inquiry in a scientific spirit, and after pointing out what may be described as national diseases, based upon lack of proper food, misuse of poisonous substances, misdirection of the mental and physical powers, etc., he concludes that, barring some deadly blow from without, which would correspond with a fatal accident in the case of an individual, there is no reason why a nation might not prolong its existence indefinitely. But to do that it must be constantly wide awake, and on guard against degeneration.

Once Was Enough.

This is one of General Miles' stories, according to the Woman's Journal. In the Confederate army, Longstreet's corps was making a night march. About 4 o'clock in the morning, when every one was tired out, a Georgia regiment stopped. A Georgia soldier put his rifle up against the tent on the other side of where Longstreet was. "Well," he said, "this is pretty hard—to fight all day and march all night. But I suppose I can do it for love of my country." He continued: "I can go hungry. I can fight. If need be, I can die for my country, because I love my country. But when this war is over, I'll be blown if I ever love another country!"

Keep Warm by Breathing.

The simplest way to get warm after exposure to cold is to take a long breath with the mouth firmly shut. Repeat this several times until you begin to feel the heat returning. It requires a very short time to do this. The long breath quickens the pulse and thus causes the blood to circulate faster. The blood flows into all parts of the veins and arteries and gives out a great deal of heat. It is stated that this method of deep breathing prevents colds and a great many other ailments if begun in time.

The Queen's Ivory Throne.

In all the 683 rooms and corridors of Windsor Castle there is scarcely a more artistically beautiful piece of furniture than the queen's ivory throne. This throne was presented to her majesty by the Maharajah of Travancore in 1851. It is made entirely of carved ivory incrustured with precious stones and upholstered with richly embroidered green velvet. For beauty of design and workmanship this ivory chair is most noticeable, and its graceful shape is a lesson to modern furniture makers.

Variations in Human Temperature.

The temperature of the human body rises at a quick rate from 6 a. m. to 10 or 11 a. m., increases at a slower rate from that time to 6 p. m., and then falls, reaching the minimum point at about 4 a. m. At this hour, too, the tissue changes are reduced to a minimum. The pulsations of the engine are, in a word, at their feeblest. The brain becomes paler, the appearance of even the ruddiest people grows more pallid, the resemblance to death is more apparent.

Credited with a Smart Saying.

Hearing of the grace and agility of a pretty Scotch lassie who danced the sword dance, Queen Victoria sent for her to dance before royalty and was greatly entertained. At the close of the brilliant performance the girl advanced and courtesied profoundly. "What can I do for you?" asked her majesty. "Give me the head of Gladstone!" said the modern Herodias. "I would gladly do that, my dear, but he lost it some years ago," retorted the queen.

Years of Greatest Growth.

The growth of girls is greatest in their fifteenth year; of boys in their seventeenth.

"Yes," says the man, who knows a thing or two, "OLD UNDEROOF RYE tops them all easily."

Its superiority, mellowness and purity of flavor is at once noticeable and undeniable. It is a combination of specially selected Whiskies, all chosen for some approved peculiarity. The result is a Whiskey of the very highest possible grade. He who samples it once ever calls for it again—this is assured.

CHAS. DENNEHY & CO.,

Why Your Corns Ache.

People feel their corns ache and their bones rheumatic when rainy weather is at hand because of the dampness of the atmosphere upon the body which causes a temporary disturbance of the system. All general disturbances of the body manifest themselves in those parts which are in a morbid state—as in a corn, a rheumatic bone or a decayed tooth.

Straw Horseshoes.

In Japan most of the horses are shod with straw. Even the clumsiest of cart horses wear straw shoes, which, in their case, are tied round the ankle with straw rope, and are made of the ordinary rice straw, so braided as to form a sole for the foot about half an inch thick. These shoes cost about 1 cent a pair.

Eyeglass Wipers.

A silk handkerchief, so often recommended for wiping eyeglasses or spectacles, is not good for this purpose, as it makes the glasses electrical and causes the dust to adhere to them. The best wiper for this purpose is fine tissue paper.

Taking Turbans.

Turbans made of glossy, lace-like straw and trimmed with violets and roses are one variety of headgear, while still another is a low-crowned broad-brimmed hat trimmed with spring flowers and plaited lace.

Queer Mourning Colors.

Coffins in Russia are never covered with black. If the deceased is a child, pink is used; if a woman, crimson, though for a widow they use brown.

No Sunstrokes There.

No matter how hot it is on the deserts of Arizona and Southern California—and sometimes the thermometer goes up to 110 and 120 in the shade—you never hear of a sunstroke.

LIFE'S JOURNEY OF
TWO CITIZENS ENDSLEWIS BLISS PASSED PEACE-FULLY AWAY SUNDAY.

Father of Superintendent Bliss of the State School for the Blind—Funeral at 10 o'clock tomorrow—Demise of Philip Yeomans, a Pioneer Resident of Rock County.

After many years of patient waiting, death came to the relief of Lewis Bliss at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and the tired spirit went out to the home beyond with a confidence that never wavered, or for a moment doubted the precious promises that had been a sure support for nearly half a century.

Like a shock of corn fully ripe, and waiting for the harvest, the reaper found him, and the friends who stood at his bedside realized that for him it was just a step from the bright July morning, across the threshold of the brighter eternity.

Lewis Bliss was born at Springfield, Mass., December 16, 1806. He came west and located on government land in Carroll county, Ill., in 1840, where he lived for fifty years, when failing health made it necessary to give up active life. For the past two years he has resided with his sons, in Chicago and Janesville. He was twice married; his first wife passed away in the early '60's; his present wife, who has been his companion for more than thirty-five years, survives him. He also leaves two sons, George J. Bliss of Oak Park, Ill., and H. F. Bliss of Janesville.

For more than fifty years he was an active and earnest christian worker, and the Methodist church, with which he was identified, always found him with open hand and willing heart. He professed and enjoyed experimental religion and his faith in God was abiding. Possessed of a large heart and generous disposition, he enjoyed to a rare degree the confidence of all who knew him. His honesty and schrewdness, were of the early New England type, and his word was as reliable as his bond with all his friends.

His life during declining years has been a benediction in the home. Month after month as the sands of life slipped away, his mind remained clear and active, and death came at last, not as the result of disease, but simply as the culmination of a worn out body. His last hours were peaceful and his death was a long sleep that awoke in the life beyond.

The funeral will be held at the home of his son at the State School for the Blind at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Philip Yeomans

Philip Yeomans, a pioneer of Rock county passed peacefully into the shadows of the unknown beyond this morning at 8 o'clock, death occurring at his late home, No. 7 Fifth avenue. Mr. Yeomans was eighty-one years of age and had resided in the county for half a century. He was a native of New York state, coming to Wisconsin at the age of twenty-three years, at which time he was married.

Besides a wife, he leaves four daughters and six sons as follows: Mrs. L. A. Mosher, Mrs. George Turk, Mrs. Edward Parker, Mrs. Charles Stokes, Hiram, Philus, Oliver, Charles, Frank and Lewis Yeomans.

The funeral will be held at the house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the interment will be at Emerald Grove.

MORE OLD SCRIPT IN TOWN

Colonel Britton Has a Part of His Revolutionary Ancestors' Pay.

The production of a piece of colonial script calling for "three Spanish milled dollars," has caused a number of Janesville people to look in their cabinets.

Colonel W. B. Britton has a piece of $1 New York colonial script that was paid to his grandfather for service in the revolutionary army. Colonel Britton's grandfather served in the war of 1812, and he took an active part in the war of 1861.

H. S. Sloat, manager of the Postal Telegraph Co. office, has an $8 bill of 1778, a counterpart of the $3 bill spoken of in The Gazette a few nights ago. The piece is an heirloom and has been in Mr. Sloat's family for over a hundred years. Since The Gazette's story a few days ago Mr. Sloat looked up the old piece of money and will make an effort to find out its value to coin collectors.

A genuine copy of the Ulster County Gazette published at Kingston, N. Y., January 4, 1800, and containing a copy of General Washington's death is also among Mr. Sloat's possessions. There are many fac simile copies of this edition in existence, printed on a hard, yellow paper, but the genuine copy are on a soft rag paper of grayish tone.

Herbert Eggleston, of Milwaukee avenue, treasures a copy of Brother Jonathan, a patriotic paper of mammoth proportions published in Baltimore, July 4, 1845.

TOM ECK PRAISES
THE LOCAL TRACKTHE NOTED TRAINER PREDICTS
GREAT WEEK OF RACING.

Says That It Will Be One of the Grandest Cycling Events Ever Held in America—Tandem Record of the World May Be Lowered During the Meeting.

Tom Eck, the world's famed manager and trainer of bicycle riders, arrived in Janesville Saturday evening from St. Louis and yesterday inspected the mile track at the fair grounds on which the races will take place.

In speaking of the track Mr. Eck said: "The track is a great surprise to me. It is simply great and I consider it today one of the fastest tracks for bicycle racing in America and the public can rest assured that they will see the greatest bicycle races ever held in America. This statement you will find is none too strong as the men are all evenly matched and it will be hard to pick a winner in any of the professional events."

The following article is from the pen of Mr. Eck.

"Ten of the professional crackjack riders arrived in Janesville last night from Chicago. The list included Angus McLeod, champion of Canada; Tom Butler, last year's L. A. W. champion of America; Nat Butler, the handicapping king; Major Taylor, the colored rider, who is looked upon as the fastest sprinter in the world today; Charley McCarthy, the fastest sprinter in the south; Harry Gibson, the boy wonder; Alf Boake and Fred Dunbar, of Canada; Jimmy Bowles, who ran Taylor a dead heat Saturday in Chicago; Jerry Woodward, flyer. The rest of the flyers will be here Tuesday. The races Wednesday and Thursday will be of an international character, and it remains to be seen what McLeod can do on a longer track against America's fastest sprinters.

McLeod is a big fellow, standing six feet high, and has been champion of Canada for the past five years. This track should suit him, as he rides a high gear and should the wind blow down a homestretch, the public may look for hair raising finishes in all the races. Nat Butler is a great rider on a large track like the Janesville course, while Major Taylor and Tom Butler can ride on any kind of a track, large or small. Jerry Woodward is a coming rider, and the champions will have to watch this young man. Young Gibson can follow almost any force and is a dangerous rival in any race. Boake and Dunbar are long mark men in the handicaps and they never loaf and the back mark men have to scratch from start to finish to catch these men which makes good racing for the public who pay their money to see good racing. Bowles is a good rider in open events and in handicaps and generally takes some of the money. The men tried the tracks today at 10 o'clock and at 3 o'clock."

Joke of a Famous Banker.

A piquant little joke is told about Baron Oppenheim, the wealthy and influential banker of Cologne, on the Rhine, who, though a Christian of the second generation, never denies his Jewish origin, no matter where he happens to be. Lately a French financier, also of Hebrew extraction and a native of a German town, though naturalized in France, paid him a visit at his Cologne bank, bent on a stroke of business in which he needed the aid of Baron Oppenheim, whose financial influence along the Rhine is almost paramount. The "Frenchman" sent in his card. The bit of pasteboard almost suppressed the real name of the caller, which was Cohn, but added to the mere C of the Cohn a long and flowing title, thus: "Le Baron C. de Point Figuer." Baron Oppenheim looked at the card, smiled a quiet smile, and then bade his caller welcome and proceeded to discuss business with him. The next day he returned the French financier's visit and sent in a card which was printed: "Le Baron O. de Cologne"—a fragrant reprisal, as will be conceded.—Philadelphia Enquirer.

The Difference of a Letter.

A man, recently left a widower, when arranging for his late wife's tombstone, gave orders that the lettering should be of a stated size. At the bottom of the stone he wished to have the words, "Lord, she was thin." The stone-mason said he was afraid there would not be room for the words, but the bereaved widower insisted, and the carving was put in hand. The correctness of the mason's view was justified, for when the stone was finished at the foot of the tablet were the words, "Lord, she was thin."—London Chronicle.

This man was so far behind the times that he wasted a whole morning because he neglected to avail himself of an appliance which the haste of modern business has rendered no longer a luxury but an absolute necessity.

A TORNADO'S BIRTH.

How the Big Western Twisters Come In-to Being.

Some Exploded Theories.

By Sewell Ford.

There are plenty of theories about the origin of tornadoes but none that is generally accepted. The experts do not agree and the unsentimental citizen is content if he can dodge destruction.

The tornado does not lend itself readily to investigation. It arrives unexpectedly, goes on its way in a brisk business like manner and shows no inclination to stick out its tongue or have its pulse felt. Even the most enthusiastic tornado investigator will abandon his pursuit and hunt the cellar when he meets a tornado face to face.

Under these conditions it is to be wondered that we really know so little about the why and wherefore of the big twisters which every year lay heavy tribute of lives and property?

But from a safe distance scientific gentlemen have watched the progress of whirling windstorms, have inspected its debris strewn path, have interviewed dazed survivors and have deduced elaborate theories. They have also collected many interesting facts about tornadoes. These gentlemen, while not boasting intimate knowledge of tornadoes, can at least claim a nodding acquaintance.

The unsentimental public has its own traditions, many of them correct and others which in the light of recent knowledge have been shown to be wholly absurd.

In the first place the terms cyclone and tornado are not synonymous, though often so used. A cyclone is a great storm attended by very high winds. It spreads over a wide area of country. A tornado is a local disturbance affecting a limited area. Cyclones are not ordinarily destructive. Tornadoes do much mischief. Tornadoes sometimes accompany cyclones and hence the confusion of the terms.

In a general way it is agreed that the evolution of a tornado begins with the meeting of large currents of hot air with similar currents of cool air under peculiar atmospheric conditions. In other words there occurs an aerial head-on collision. The cold air being heavier forces the hot air to rise. As this takes place the currents assume a rotary motion. This is the storm center. The visible sign of this is the peculiar funnel shaped cloud which accompanies all tornadoes.

A popular idea is that the interior of a tornado cloud is practically a vacuum. This idea is incorrect according to most meteorologists. Inside the funnel the hot air is rushing upward to escape at an unknown speed. As the outer and colder currents revolve the air within is condensed.

A most plausible theory in explanation of the wonderful lifting power of a tornado is that the density of the air within the funnel and at its base makes the air really heavier than wood and stone. Hence the latter objects float just as a cork does in the water.

Some of the many freaks of tornadoes seem to bear out this theory. It is known that the tornado carries along with it a mass of wreckage which seems to float about in the storm center. The immense velocity of the air currents, combined with the density of the air itself, makes this possible. Thus stones, planks, trees, furniture, wagons, animals and human beings are carried off and dropped when they have made the circuit of the storm cloud from the vortex to the outer rim.

Another erroneous impression is that the western states are more frequently visited by tornadoes than the eastern sections of the country. But the west has no monopoly of the twister, taking its area into account.

In a record of tornadoes kept for seven years by the weather bureau, it appears that the United States suffered from an average of 60 a year. In the course of seven years the funnel shaped cloud was seen in 30 different states.

In those seven years New York state averaged two tornadoes a year, and so did New England. Kansas and Illinois, at first glance, seemed to be the champion tornado states by this record, with Missouri a close third. Kansas and Illinois had an average of nearly seven tornadoes a year for the seven years the record was kept, while Missouri had five. But when difference in area was taken into consideration and the percentage of tornado clouds to each 10,000 square miles of territory was worked out, it did not appear that Kansas, Illinois and Missouri were entitled to so much reputation as breeders of these peculiar storms.

During the seven years the percentage of tornadoes to area placed Massachusetts and Illinois side by side at the top of the list. Indiana in the frequency of tornadoes led Kansas. Georgia, Iowa, Missouri, New Jersey and Ohio were close behind Kansas in their percentages. Michigan, the scene of the most deadly visitation of this kind in 1890, showed for the seven years of the record a remarkably low percentage. It had ten tornadoes in seven years, and when area was taken into account it ranked below Alabama, Connecticut, Louisiana and most of the other states in the frequency of these storms.

One of the peculiar facts about the weather bureau tornado record for seven years was that it seemed to show Texas enjoyed practical exemption from these tornado clouds. But it was not long after the record was published that the town of Sherman, Tex., was destroyed by a twister, and since then Texas has had its full share.

After examining the preliminary conditions of over 600 tornadoes the weather bureau has come to the conclusion that it is generally impossible to give warnings far enough in advance to save any locality from the results of tornadoes. Currents of cold and hot air are constantly roaming about and dodging one another. Once in awhile they meet, and then, before a forecaster can figure out just what is going to happen, lo, the twister has organized for business and is off over the country, tipping and tearing things with the fury of a crazy Titan.

But nature hangs out in the sky warning signals of her own. The best that the weather people can do is to teach people how to read these signals aright.

A sultry, oppressive condition of the atmosphere usually precedes a tornado. The more sensitive physically experience a sickly sensation under the influence of the sun's rays, a want of breath, a peculiar exhaustion.

Another tornado sign is the formation of clouds in the southwest, unlike any ordinary formation. If they are light, their appearance resembles smoke issuing from a burning building or straw stack, rolling upward in fantastic shapes to great heights; sometimes they are like a fine mist or quite white, like fog or steam.

If the premonitory clouds are dark and present a deep greenish hue, this fairly forebodes very great evil; so also if they appear jet black from the center to circumference, or if this deep set color appears only in the center, gradually diminishing in intensity as the outer edges of the cloud or bank of clouds are approached.

Under ordinary circumstances clouds form, move and disappear without exciting special remark or perhaps thought from the casual observer. On the occasion of a tornado the formation and movement of the clouds strike some persons dumb with fear.

There seems to be some strange connection with the almost simultaneous appearance of the clouds in the southwest and northwest, possessing, as they do, such unusually threatening forms. As they approach from opposite directions they are suddenly thrown into the greatest confusion, rolling over each other in a well developed whirl.

Generally, following closely upon the existence of this condition, the funnel shaped tornado cloud appears against the western sky, moving boldly to the front from without this confined mass of flying clouds.

When you note these conditions, it is time to adjourn to the tornado pit. If one of these refuges is not handy, the next best thing is to go down into the cellar, get as close to the west wall as possible and say your prayers.

LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

ENDEAVORERS GO ON FOOT.

Sabbath Observance Rigidly Adhered To at Detroit.

MEETINGS LARGELY ATTENDED.

The Most Eloquent of the Preachers Among the Delegates Selected to Do Honor to the Day—Consecration Meetings Held at Night.

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—Christian Endeavorers walked to services Sunday and the men who preached walked with them. The antagonism of the society to all forms of Sunday labor resulted in the practical boycotting of the street cars.

Perhaps the greatest meeting of the convention was that held for men only in the Light Guard armory. Nearly 4,000 men were present. The Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman of New York city talked on "The End of It," taking his text from the book of Job.

Hundreds of persons were turned away from the Sabbath observance meeting at the Westminster church, and even then there was a crowd standing on the sidewalks throughout the two hours, and all of the windows were filled with people, who stood on the coping. Treasurer William Shaw presided, and the first address was made by the Rev. David McAllister of Allegheny, Pa., his topic being "Sabbath in the Home." In the course of his address he denounced the practice of bicycle riding on the Lord's day.

C. N. Howard of Rochester, N. Y., organizer of the Christian Prohibition union, followed Dr. McAllister, and spoke of "The Side Door." "The side door of the saloon," he said, "is the front door of hell. The only solution of the saloon question is no saloon."

John Charlton of Lynedoch, Ont., a member of the Canadian parliament, closed the meeting with an address on "What the Sabbath May Do for Us."

Half an hour before the time for the women's meeting the Woodward Avenue Baptist church was so full that no other person could squeeze in, and disappointed thousands, after waiting a few minutes before the doors, passed on. An overflow meeting was held at the Woodward Avenue Congregational church.

Two interesting services were those held in the prison and in the house of correction. Henry E. Washburn of Boston and forty men and women spent two hours with the inmates of the jail, singing and praying for them and speaking words of cheer and comfort. For each of the 120 prisoners there was a paper or a magazine. The Rev. Arthur J. Smith of Savannah, Ga., led the house of correction meeting.

All of the churches in the city and suburbs were filled to overflowing at the regular services, and at those where popular preachers spoke hundreds of persons were sent away unable to get in. One of the largest crowds followed the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon to Bethany Presbyterian church, far out in the eastern portion of the city. Agitation as to whether Sheldonism will not swallow up the Christian Endeavor movement has sprung up, and vigorous discussion of the matter is on.

The communion services of the Disciples of Christ in the Light Guard armory drew 2,000 persons. The Rev. J. M. Garrison of St. Louis, editor of the Christian Evangelist, conducted the service, and President Burris Jenkins of the University of Indianapolis presided.

Dr. John Henry Barrows, president of Oberlin college, talked at the First Presbyterian church on the "Comfort of Christian Theism." A little farther north Bishop Samuel Fallows preached to an enormous congregation at the Westminster Presbyterian church. The Rev. Charles E. Jefferson of New York city was an attraction for nearly 2,000 at the First Congregational church. Sermon was on "Disarmament." Bishop John H. Vincent of Topeka, Kas., addressed an immense throng at the First Methodist church on "The Training of the Young." The Rev. F. S. Hatch of Monson, Mass., had "The Ambitious Christ" for his topic at the Mount Hope Congregational church. The Rev. J. H. O. Smith of Chicago preached at the Clinton Avenue Baptist church on "The Humiliation and exaltation of Jesus Christ."

Among the others of the sixty-six men who preached are the Revs. James Mursell, London, Eng.; Wayland Hoyt, Philadelphia, Pa.; Elwood Tewasbury, China; James Pettes, Japan; Joseph Walker, Queensland, Australia; John Pollock, Glasgow, Scotland; Linden E. Crawford, Turkey; W. A. Chamberlain, India; W. M. Paden, Salt Lake City, Utah; and Bishop Alexander Walters, Jersey City, N. J.

Convention camp, after the "quiet-hour" service, at which there were 10,000 persons, was silent and desolate. At night there were thirty-one consecration meetings, at as many churches. All of them were largely attended. The peace and arbitration meeting at Belle Isle Saturday was not the success which it was hoped it would be. The day was chilly and windy, and up to 1 o'clock there was a steady down-pour of cold rain. The peace memorials to the conference at The Hague were heavily signed at the state rallies at night.

Prof. R. G. Moulton, of the University of Chicago, caused something of a sensation by declaring the story of Joseph was only a pretty story, a piece of beautiful literature, and not a biblical story in any sense.

TRAIN KILLS SIX IN A FAMILY.

One Child Only Remains to Tell of a Grade Crossing Fatality in Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, July 10.—All but one of the seven members of the family of William Reinhard of this city were killed and the remaining one was badly injured by a Big Four passenger train Sunday afternoon. The dead:

WILLIAM REINHARD, aged 41 years.

RACHEL REINHARD, aged 40.

WILLIAM REINHARD, aged 13.

KARL REINHARD, aged 7.

EDWARD REINHARD, aged 5.

The injured:

CLARENCE REINHARD, aged 14; collar bone broken.

Reinhard and his family were driving in a surrey. They were struck on the railroad crossing at Woodward avenue. The vehicle was knocked into splinters, and Mr. and Mrs. Reinhard and Arthur and Karl were killed outright. Edward and William died after being removed to the hospital. Clarence, it is believed, will recover.

JONES STILL IN POLITICS.

He Will Open Up the Bryan Campaign on His Return.

Washington, July 10.—A private letter received in Washington contains the information that Senator James K. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the democratic national committee, will not resign that office, as has been reported. It is said that on the contrary a letter from him will be read at the meeting of the committee in Chicago on July 20, in which he will announce that he has recovered his health and will resume active work on the national committee as chairman upon his return to this country, and will map out the programme for the campaign in behalf of the nomination of William J. Bryan.

Glass Workers Will Combine.

Anderson, Ind., July 10.—In all of the history of the glass industry of the country this week will probably be the most interesting. Tuesday morning the flint glass workers will meet in national convention at Muncie, Ind.; the green glass workers in national convention at Atlantic City, N. J., and the window glass workers' national wage committee in Pittsburgh. These three great national unions, representing the three great branches of the glass industry, will simultaneously take steps, it is claimed, toward the amalgamation of all into one great co-operative supporting national association. Each will maintain its independent workings, as at present, but they will bind themselves together so that one will financially and morally back the others in labor troubles if there are any.

Baptists to Meet at Richmond, Va.

Richmond, Va., July 10.—Following close upon the adjournment of the Christian Endeavor convention at Detroit, delegates to the international convention of the Baptist Young People's union will meet in this city, July 13-16. An extensive programme has been outlined, and it is expected that the sessions of 1899 will more than equal in importance and attendance any previously held. At Buffalo last year 12,000 were present, and Richmond Baptists announce that as many and more can be comfortably entertained.

Preparing List of Officers.

Washington, July 10.—The war department officials are busily engaged in preparing the list of appointments of officers not already announced for the ten new regiments of infantry to be organized for service in the Philippines. Approximately there are nearly 500 of these in all, including those of the line and staff. The colonels for nine of the regiments have been made public, but the selection for the tenth, it is said, has not been definitely determined.

Currency for India.

London, July 10.—The report of the Indian currency commission appointed in 1898 has just been made public. It concurs in the decision of the Indian government not to revert to the silver standard, and advises that immediate measures be taken effectively to establish the gold standard, which, it says, is of paramount importance to India's material interests.

MILITARY TO BE IN CONTROL.

Plan of Government for Our New Possessions.

COMMISSION REPORT ADOPTED.

The Conquered Countries Are Not to Be Treated as Parts of the United States, but as Property Owned by the Government—Congress Has Power.

Washington, July 10.—President McKinley will adopt as the policy of his administration with reference to the conquered islands the report of the insular commission, which has just been filed. Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines are to be treated not as parts of the United States but merely as property owned by the government.

According to the views of the administration this is the only possible means of exercising temporary control over the islands until such time as congress shall decide upon their future disposition. Under the theory adopted by the insular commission there is no distinction between Cuba and the other islands for the time being, but all are prizes of war and subject absolutely to the disposal of congress.

There are many reasons for this administrative policy. In the first place, it would be impossible to govern the islands by military control in time of peace if they are to be considered as integral parts of the United States. It is held by the administration that the ratification of the treaty of peace by the senate concerned merely the relations between the United States and Spain, and left the islands in the possession of this country, the same as the Reina Mercedes or any of the ships left after Dewey wrecked the Spanish fleet in Manila bay.

The position taken by the government is that there has been, and can be, no annexation to the United States except by statutory act of congress. The disposition of Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines is yet to be decided upon by both houses of congress. In the case of Cuba there is a solemn pledge to give the island back to its inhabitants as an independent country, but it is admitted that this pledge might be violated and the islands formally annexed to the United States in case the people of this country were willing to incur the odium of having broken faith with the Cubans.

According to the policy adopted by the administration, as voiced by the insular commission, it is still within the power of congress to sell, give away or keep all these islands. This would not be the case if they were considered parts of the United States, having vested rights of citizenship and the protection of the civil law. The purpose of the president is to govern all these islands by means of the military, and whatever laws and regulations are established will originate with the president as commander-in-chief of the army, and not as chief executive of the civil power. In the absence of legislation by congress there is no other theory which could be successfully adopted. The federal laws do not apply to any of these islands.

Hawaii, which has been annexed to the United States by an act of congress, is not yet under the laws of the United States, but is controlled by the temporary government under the direction of the president. It is the opinion of the law department that when the islands are declared to be part and parcel of the United States it will still be necessary to extend the federal laws to them specifically.

Bishop Radmacher Improves.

Anderson, Ind., July 10.—Information just received is to the effect that Bishop Radmacher of the Fort Wayne diocese of the Catholic church is improving gradually and that the mental disturbances have passed.

What a Little Faith Did FOR MRS. ROCKWELL.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 69,384]

"I was a great sufferer from female weakness and had no strength. It was impossible for me to attend to my household duties. I had tried everything and many doctors, but found no relief.

"My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did; before using all of one bottle I felt better. I kept on with it and to my great surprise I am cured. All who suffer from female complaints should give it a trial."—MRS. ROCKWELL, 1209 S. DIVISION ST., GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

From a Grateful Newark Woman.

"When I wrote to you I was very sick, had not been well for two years. The doctors did not seem to help me, and one said I could not live three months. I had womb trouble, falling, kidneys and bladder trouble. There seemed to be such a drawing and burning pain in my bowels that I could not rest anywhere. After using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash and following your advice, I feel well again and stronger than ever. My bowels feel as if they had been made over new. With many thanks for your help, I remain, L. G., 74 ANN ST., NEWARK, N. J."

FEARS NO COURT MARTIAL.

Manila's Former Health Officer Says
Peace Commission Is a Failure.

Dr. Charles A. McQuestin, who has somewhat startled people by the frank way in which he talks about affairs in the Philippines, is a prominent California physician. He went to the Philippines as a member of the staff of General Otis, and during his stay in the east he acted as health officer of

DR. CHARLES A. McQUESTIN.
Manila. He recently resigned and returned home on account of ill health. Since then Dr. McQuestin has been talking freely. He declares that the peace commission is a failure and thinks that it will take an army of from 100,000 to 150,000 soldiers to subdue the Filipinos. It is probable that Dr. McQuestin would have faced a court martial had he expressed these opinions before his resignation. "The peace commission," Dr. McQuestin says, "is an absolute failure. It did not gain the confidence of the natives at the outset and will never secure it. The commissioners do not understand the Filipino character. The people, the language, the customs of the country, the history of their long struggle against Spanish oppression, were all strange to them. Dr. Schurman and his associates began by offering the insurgents vague promises of participation in their own government at some remote time in the future."

THE KISSING BUG.

Some Interesting Facts About the New Pest.

The kissing bug, which is reported to be annoying humanity in many sections of the country, is an insect of most aggressive habits. Like the mosquito, it is fond of human blood. The mosquito, however, is content to plunge his drill into the back of your hand or any exposed portion of the anatomy. He will even bite through thin clothes. But the kissing bug prefers to attack the lips of his victim; hence his name.

Of course the scientists have another name for him, one more in harmony, as it happens, with his nature. The bugologists of the entomological division of the agricultural department in Washington, where the pest first appeared, say it is scheduled in the books as the melanolestes picipes. It belongs to a group that feeds on other insects in preference to plants. Its liking for human blood is a habit of recent acquisition. In the west it is often found in poultry houses, and when in large numbers frequently attacks horses. The picipes when full grown is about one inch in length and is characterized by a flattened body and very narrow pointed head. It has a short, strong beak, with a point as sharp as that of a mosquito. It is jet black in color and is a night flier.

THE MELANOLESTES PICIPES (KISSING BUG).
[From sketches furnished by the agricultural department, actual size.]

The piercing of the victim's skin is accompanied by no perceptible sensation, but the swelling sets in almost immediately. With the swelling comes an intense burning pain, lasting often from two to four days. The part punctured swells to ten times its normal size in almost every case.

Hospital physicians use a solution of collodion in treating the bug bite cases. This reduces the swelling in from 48 to 72 hours.
